The energetic grid of the earth

The earth is circled in a grid of light, its called the global grid matrix or sometimes referred to as ley lines, its not some fantastical idea it's existence is scientifically proven, it's a living electromagnetic 3D force field that runs through and around the world, through lands and seas. This powerful grid is what whales and dolphins use to navigate themselves around the world.

All living creatures are sustained and impacted by this electromagnetic grid of light energy, as we live our lives our own electromagnetic energy field of light connects with and feeds back and forwards into and from the grid. The earths energy grid is impacted and connected to the stellar grid of light, the galaxies of stars and planets are all radiating light and energy which can be seen, however most of the electromagnetic light energy is beyond our vision but it does exist. Nasa explains it best!

What is the electromagnetic spectrum?

"The electromagnetic spectrum consists of all the different wavelengths of electromagnetic radiation, including light, radio waves, and X-rays. We name regions of the spectrum rather arbitrarily, but the names give us a general sense of the energy of the radiation; for example, ultraviolet light has shorter wavelengths than radio light. The only region in the entire electromagnetic spectrum that our eyes are sensitive to is the visible region.

Gamma rays have the shortest wavelengths, < 0.01 nanometers (about the size of an atomic nucleus). This is the highest frequency and most energetic region of the electromagnetic spectrum. Gamma rays can result from nuclear reactions and from processes taking place in objects such as pulsars, quasars, and black holes.

X-rays range in wavelength from $0.01 - 10$ nm (about the size of an atom). They are generated, for example, by super-heated gas from exploding stars and quasars, where temperatures are near a million to ten million degrees. Ultraviolet radiation has wavelengths of $10 - 310$ nm (about the size of a virus). Young, hot stars produce a lot of ultraviolet light and bathe interstellar space with this energetic light. Visible light covers the range of wavelengths from $400 - 700$ nm (from the size of a molecule to a protozoan). Our sun emits the most of its radiation in the visible range, which our eyes perceive as the colors of the rainbow. Our eyes are sensitive only to this small portion of the electromagnetic spectrum. Infrared wavelengths span from 710 nm – 1 millimeter (from the width of a pinpoint to the size of small plant seeds). At a temperature of 37 degrees C, our bodies give off infrared wavelengths with a peak intensity near 900 nm.

radio waves are longer than 1 mm. Since these are the longest waves, they have the lowest energy and are associated with the lowest temperatures. Radio wavelengths are found everywhere: in the background radiation of the universe, in interstellar clouds, and in the cool remnants of supernova explosions, to name a few. Interesting if nothing else !

What does this have to do with the angels I hear you ask ! The angels connect energetically to earth through the stellar frequencies from the realms where they exist, angels are found in many dimensions in the universe and though they themselves are bodies of light energy themselves they are often connected to specific physical places where they exist on a higher level of frequency. For example Arcturian angels are connected to Arcturus and Lyran angels are connected to Lyra, both different star systems in our physical universe.

It is through this energetic connection to these star systems that they can access the energetic grid system of the earth and connect their energy to us through the elements and crystals. Interestingly some people are incarnated as Earth angels, a topic we will cover more later, but these people have a specific soul connection to the angelic realm and as such they become two way conduits for the frequencies from the angelic realms to pass into the global grid matrix and also for earth frequencies to pass back there. It's a two pronged approach ! They can send the pure angelic frequencies through the stellar and earth grid and also do it by having incarnated earth angels living here, who connect with their realm through the stellar gateway chakra about 6 feet above your head.

The Elements

The four Watchtower Archangels who guard the four cardinal points of North, South, East and West have a responsibility to guard over one of the four elements in nature, for Raphael its Air, for Gabriel its water, for Uriel its earth and for Michael it is fire.

Ancient man, whilst studying the nature of existence, discovered that the four mighty elements, which governed life, were fundamental to all manifestation. Understanding themselves as part of manifestation, these ancient people searched for the elements within themselves. These elements were:-Air, Fire, Water, Earth.

As their thoughts were free moving, and unseen, they likened them to the element Air.

As their desires burned in their breasts, so they likened this to the element Fire

As tears flowed in response to their feelings, so they likened this to the element Water.

And, as the stability of their bodies, like the planet they lived upon, was the basis of survival, so this then represented the element Earth.

Extending this understanding, it was thus decided that there were four inner requirements for lasting happiness. Through this very human experience of the elements on a physical level within our own bodies we are making an energetic angelic connection.

Through Archangel Raphael, we connect with Air and our heart chakra. The heart chakra orchestrates healing throughout the body and hence Raphael is known as the Archangel of Healing. When we breathe a sigh of relief we are releasing tension and worry from our body, unburdening our hearts if you will. We let go through the breath and the organs associated with it, the heart and lungs. There are many spiritual practises that focus on the breath and as a rule they focus on the breathing out and letting go of the old, and the inhalation of new spirit energy whilst in meditation.

Through Archangel Michael we connect with the element of fire and our solar plexus chakra which glows a flaming yellow colour. It is our fire and drive and our centre of power.

Archangel Michael is known as the Archangel of Protection as he wields the sword of justice, he stands in his power in integrity and shows us how to hold our light in situations where our power “our fire” is being depleted.

Through Archangel Gabriel we connect with the element of water and our naval chakra, the seat of our emotions. When we become emotionally overwhelmed this area of the body can experience physical symptoms like stomach cramps or feelings of sickness, it is through the release of tears that these painful emotions can start their release process and the body can begin to heal. It is at moments like these where we go into total surrender as we realise that we can no longer hold onto painful issues and emotions. I see tears as a real blessing and for the angels when you cry, they will always come and stand near you. This process is orchestrated by Archangel Gabriel.

Through Archangel Uriel we connect with the element of Earth and our base chakra, our stability and grounding. We are spiritual beings living a physical existence, we choose to forget our spiritual selves when we incarnate here, I believe the memories of it would make us not want to stay to carry out what we have chosen to do on earth. There are those who do have these memories, especially the crystal children who are being born on the earth at the moment and it makes it hard to live in this reality. However, all of us carry on some level the deep wounding of grief from our disconnection to the light realms. Many of you may have spent your life feeling like you don't belong and that you are not home.

It is the role of Archangel Uriel to connect us to the physical earth so that we feel safe to be here and present in our bodies. Through feeling safe to be here we can go out into the world to create our physical reality.

The Elemental Beings

In the elements of the earth exist the elemental beings who work alongside the Archangels, they are the working team on earth and everything they do they do for us and the earth to keep it in balance. It is a really important role that plays out on a universal level, you will remember that we discussed how the energetic grid is connected to the stellar grids of light in the universe emanating from stars, planets and galaxies. If the frequency of the grid of our earth starts to distort it impacts everything it connects with not just us, but the whole universe! So as part of that the angelic realm and the elemental beings work together to clear the elements so that our energy grid is sparkling!!!

Interestingly the Earth is referred to in the spiritual realms as the place of healing.

There are many elemental beings that work hard to sustain life for us on the planet;

Archangel Michael works with the element of Fire and is supported in the Elemental Kingdom by the Salamander who is known as the fire spirit.

Salamander is an intensely shy and elusive reptile of the Animal Kingdom. It descended from the first vertebrates to move from water onto land and has been called a “living fossil” the earliest known salamander lived about 150 million years ago during the Jurassic period.

The word salamander is of Greek origin and translates roughly to “Fire Lizard”. In mythology Salamander resembles the real salamander in appearance, but makes its home in fires, the hotter the better, enduring them without harm. This myth may have originated in Europe from the real “fire salamander”, which hibernates in and under rotting logs are put on indoor fires. Salamander is also supposed to receive nourishment from fire, move through it unscathed and extinguish fire either with skin secretions of the extreme coldness of its body. Other myths say it is so poisonous it can poison the fruit on a tree by wrapping itself around it.

Salamander feeds your life force; it filters through the fire element and therefore sustains the energy for you to continue and complete what you need to do. It enables you to master the power of diversity and also gives you the inner power and knowledge to deal with life's demands. It enables you to master the power of diversity and also gives you the inner power and knowledge to deal with life's demands. Most importantly, Salamander supports you to obtain and develop endurance and wisdom to deal with any adversity that may come along.

Archangel Raphael works with the element of air and is supported in the Elemental Kingdom by the Sylph who is known as the air spirit.

Sylph is the most evolved elemental air spirit or fairy. It has a perfect adult human form and great wings which fold behind it when not in use. It is easy to communicate with because of its superior intellect. It is also known as a “wind singer” as it is sometimes mistaken for an angel. Its wings allow it to soar high into the heavens. It is believed to be an offshoot of the sidhe, a great bird of the mountains-winged ruler of the dreamtime, powerful, majestic and ethereal. Sylph has the ability to shape-shift and may even take on another form. It lives within the air element so prefers to reside on mountaintops. It assists humans to obtain positive desires and inspires their creativity.

Like the sidhe, Sylph has an ancient and proud legacy. It is very regal in manner and bearing. It honours its word and protects until death. Sadly, fewer and fewer are flying as the modern world creeps in. The few that are left, however, are choosing to come down from the mountaintops and re-join society to support the changes now occurring within our world. They are re-establishing the honour, glory and majesty inherent in their own kind.

Sylph supports the healing process of our male and female `lines of force` to keep us in balance with the electromagnetic light grid of the earth. They also support the rejuvenation of the central nervous system and clear energetic weaknesses within the lungs and brain, thereby releasing stress related pressure in the mental and emotional body.

Sylph helps us maintain a sense of balance at all times. Sylphs also bring through the magical healing properties created by the air and Fairy/Angelic Realms, creating more manifestation, passion and divine love in our lives.

Archangel Uriel works with the element of earth and is supported in the elemental kingdom by the Gnome who is known as the earth spirit, they are also referred to as one of the “little people” because their average height is only 15 centimetres. Their feet are slightly pigeon-toed, giving them extra advantage in speed and agility.

Gnomes have expressive faces, bright, intelligent eyes, pointy ears and are very strong and sturdy. According to Paraclesus, Gnomes are the most important elemental spirit of the earth element.

Gnomes originated in northern Europe in the highlands of Scandinavia, migrating to the lowlands about 1500 years ago. Over time they entered into the inner dimensions of the Earth and now co-exists with the Fairy Kingdom.

However, some have now migrated back to the surface and live in relatively untouched, wild, fertile areas, removed and relatively hidden from more populated areas of the world. Gnomes are largely subterranean and have been known to live in secluded rock caves or within large trees with hidden entrances.

Gnomes are known to have a strong connection to the Animal Kingdom and sometimes free wildlife from man-made traps. Because of its love for the Animal Kingdom it is generally vegetarian, mostly eating herbs, grains, fruit, beans, potatoes or any other edible vegetation in its immediate environment.

The word “gnome” is said to be associated with the Greek gnosis, meaning knowledge. According to myth, Gnome hoards secret knowledge just as it hoards treasure.

In Germanic fairy tales, such as the Brothers Grimm, it often resembles a gnarled old man living deep underground guarding buried treasure. In some traditions it is a small, mischievous sprite or goblin. In Iceland, Gnome is so respected, roads are re-routed around areas where it is said to live.

Gnome allows you to reclaim your sense of connection to the Earth and thereby receive a magical healing response, not only from the Earth herself, but also from the other kingdoms of the Earth, such as the Animal, Mineral and Plant Kingdoms. Through this connection your body will be able to make the necessary changes to respond to the Earth changes and ascend with her at this vital time of transition.”

Archangel Gabriel works with the element of water and is support by the Undine in the Elemental Kingdom, who is known as the water spirit.”

Undine exists within the crystallised structure of water, which is geometrically similar to the geometries that sustain the formation of the crystals themselves. These etheric geometric structures are like Doorways into the different ethereal dimensions that are created more of ether.

Undine lives within these parallel worlds but sometimes embodies more liquid in its ethereal form to enter into the ocean depths. It can then experience the sensation of the different crystallised properties sustained within the water here on Earth.

Through entering into the depths of the ocean it can also interconnect and play with the many species that live here, from the different varieties of fish through to the dolphins and whales. Some people have said they have seen Undine manifest like a mermaid- the upper part of the body being the form of a human female and the lower half like a fish tail.

Undine helps support the crystallisation of water, which is the substance from which the human body is primarily formed. When the body is born into the physical world, it then sustains around 70% water, in relationship with the Earth's surface, which is also made-up of 70% water, consisting of lakes, dams, rivers and the vast volumes of the oceans themselves.

Through the Undine we are energetically supported to create a healing and purification process of the physical body and also to clear painful emotions that have been suppressed from deep within the psyche.

The majestic Arcturian Archangels (around 12 feet tall) support the Undine to crystallise the water on our planet. Undine heals inner-pain and activates the frequency of the vibrational sound spectrum around every atom so that, eventually, all dis-ease can be healed on first a soul level and then in the body and consciousness itself.

The 9 Orders of Angels

Please note that throughout these sections you may see reference to God without reference to the feminine aspect of God which is the Goddess. Please note that when we refer to just God here we are referring to the Goddess at the same time.

There are nine orders of angels each serving a different universal function, we will look at each one in turn but to begin with here they are in order. I have used references to the Western Bible here but of course angels are mentioned in many sacred religious texts.

Seraphim – The first and highest order.

“Seraphim stood above Him, each having six wings” Isaiah 6:2

Cherubim – The second order

“make one cherubim at one end and one cherubim at the other end” Arc of the Covenant, Exodus 25:19

Thrones and Dominions – The third and fourth order

“By him all things were created in the heavens and on earth, visible and invisible, whether thrones or dominions, or rulers or authorities, all things have been created by Him and for Him” Colossians 1:16

Virtues – the fifth order

“For there stood before me this night the angel of God, whose I am and whom I serve” Acts 27:23

Powers – the sixth order

“Who is gone into heaven, and is on the right hand of God; angels and authorities and powers being made subject unto Him” 1 Peter 3:22

Principalities – the seventh order

Archangels- the eighth order

“The angel Gabriel was sent from God to a city in Galilee, called Nazareth” Luke 1:26
Angels – the ninth order

“For it is written, He shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee.”

Luke 4:10

The Seraphim, Cherubim, Thrones and Dominions

The Seraphim

There are nine orders of angels, the highest order is the Seraphim “the fire makers”, as the highest order of angels, Seraphim stand the closest to the God/Goddess source. They are referred to as the caretakers or protectors of Gods throne. They are often pictured hovering above the heavenly throne. The illumination they receive from the God source they pass down the angels below them.

Those who claim to have seen Seraphim describe them as having fantastic forms, features with the body of an eagle, or four faces or bright luminous red wings. As their name, which comes from the ancient Hebrew word for fire suggests, they are closely associated with fire eternally burning with divine love.

In fact their name is variously translated as fire makers and carriers of ardour, the love that burns in the Seraphim is so bright that not even powerful angels like the cherubim can look at them directly, but we humans can enjoy its warmth, it emits a flame so bright that it lights up the whole world, the warm bright flame of love for creation.

Cherub Angels (Cherubim)

When you hear the word Cherub you think of small chubby angels with wings, but they were depicted very differently when they first appeared in the ancient art of Assyria. Caribou from the ancient word carob which means both full of knowledge and one who intercedes had the bodies of sphinxes and the heads of eagles, bulls and other powerful animals.

The prophet Izekiel described the one that spoke to him as having four faces, the face of a man, an angel, a lion and an eagle. These fierce countenances were very different from the innocent smiles of the baby angels that we are familiar with. The original cherubim were fearsome, they guarded entrances to palaces and temples. Cherubim keep and guard Gods knowledge, the same way they guarded temples, two Cherubim of hammered gold sit on top of the Ark of Covenant, the vessel that contained the ten commandments.

Cherubim, one of the nine choirs of angels watch over Gods truth throughout the universe. They are said to have special insight over Gods secrets thus when we are faced with a choice and feel with our hearts which way we need to go, we are feeling the wisdom of the cherubim. Whether you seek true wisdom, justice or true love, the cherubim are the best guides you can have.

Thrones

The Thrones are a class of celestial beings mentioned by Paul the Apostle in Colossians 1:16. According to the New Testament these high celestial beings are among those Orders at the Christ's service. They are the carriers of the Throne of God hence the name. Rosemary Ellen Guiley (1996: p. 37) states that:

The 'thrones'; also known as 'ophanim' (offanim) and 'galgallin', are creatures that function as the actual chariots of God driven by the cherubs. They are characterized by peace and submission; God rests upon them. Thrones are depicted as great wheels containing many eyes, and reside in the area of the cosmos where material form begins to take shape. They chant glorias to God and remain forever in his presence. They mete out divine justice and maintain the cosmic harmony of all universal laws.

Thrones angels are known for their wonderful minds. They contemplate divine will on a regular basis, and with their strong intellect, they work to understand that knowledge and figure out how to apply it in practical ways. In the process, they acquire great wisdom.

Thrones, who are the third rank on the most commonly used angelic hierarchy used angelic, join angels from the first two ranks – theseraphim and cherubim -- on God's council of angels in heaven. They meet directly with God/Goddess to discuss his good purposes for everyone and everything in the universe, and how angels can help fulfil those purposes. The Bible mentions this heavenly council in Psalm 89:7, revealing that, "In the council of the holy ones God is greatly feared [respected]; he is more awesome than all who surround him." In Daniel 7:9, the Bible describes thrones angels on the council specifically: "... thrones were set in place, and the Ancient of Days [God] took his seat."

Since thrones are especially wise, they often explain the divine wisdom behind the missions that God/Goddess assigns to angels who work in lower angelic ranks. These other angels -- who range from the dominions directly below the thrones rank to the guardian angels working closely with human beings -- learn lessons from the thrones angels about how best to perform their God-given missions in ways that will accomplish divine will in each situation. Sometimes Thrones interact with humans, as well.

They act as God's messengers, explaining divine will to people who are looking for guidance about what is best for them from a universal perspective about important decisions they need to make in their lives. Thrones are known for their concern for justice to prevail in a fallen world, and for their work fighting injustice.

They go on missions to right wrongs and to help people. Thrones angels also enforce universal laws so that the cosmos works in harmony, as the God/Goddess designed it to function throughout all of its many intricate connections.

Thrones are filled with brilliant light that reflects the brilliance of universal wisdom that enlightens their minds. Whenever they appear to people in their heavenly form, they are characterized by light that shines brightly from within them. All the angels who have direct access to God's throne in heaven -- the thrones, cherubim, and seraphim -- exude light so bright that it's compared to fire.

Dominions

Dominions are a group of angels who help keep the world in proper order. They are known for delivering justice into unjust situations, showing mercy toward human beings, and helping angels in lower ranks stay organized and perform their work well. They work to do what's truly best in difficult circumstances -- what's right from a higher purpose perspective, even though humans may not understand.

Dominions also often act as channels of mercy for love to flow to people. They express unconditional love at the same time as they express passion for justice. Since they are completely loving they look to balance love and truth. Love without truth isn't really loving because it settles for less than the best that should be.

But truth without love isn't really truthful because it doesn't respect the reality that we are here everyone to give and receive love. Dominions know this, and hold this tension in balance as they make all of their decisions. One of the ways that dominion angels regularly deliver mercy to people is by answering the prayers of leaders around the world.

After world leaders -- in any field, from the government to business -- look for wisdom and guidance about specific choices they need to make, dominions are often assigned to impart that wisdom and send fresh ideas about what to say and do.

Archangel Zadkiel, the angel of mercy, is a leading dominions angel. Today, Zadkiel and the other dominions who work with him in the purple light ray send people insights to help them learn from their mistakes while assuring them that they can move forward into the future with confidence.

Dominions also encourage people to show other people mercy and kindness when they make mistakes. Dominion angels also regulate the other angels in the angelic ranks below them, supervising how they perform their duties. Dominions communicate regularly with the lower angels to help them stay organized and on track with the many missions they are assigned to carry out. Finally, dominions help keep the natural order of the universe, by enforcing universal laws of nature.

Virtues and Powers

Virtues

Virtues are a choir of angels in Christianity who are known for their work encouraging human beings to strengthen their faith in God. Often, virtue angels also perform miracles for people to inspire them to deepen their faith and trust. Virtues try to inspire people in ways that help them grow spiritually.

The main method virtues use to do so is by sending positive thoughts of peace and hope into people's 'minds. When people are awake, they may perceive such encouraging messages especially during times of stress. When people are asleep, they may receive encouragement from virtue angels in their dreams.

Historically, Virtues are sent to encourage many people who would become saints after their deaths. The Bible describes a virtue angel speaking to Saint Paul the Apostle during a crisis, encouraging Paul that even though he would have to endure some intense challenges (a shipwreck and a trial before the Roman emperor Caesar), God would empower him to get through everything with courage. The virtue angel's prophecy of the future came true. All 276 of the men on the ship survived the wreck, and Paul later courageously faced Caesar on trial.

Angels from the virtues choir emanate the energy of divine grace by delivering gifts of miracles to humanity. They often visit Earth to perform miracles in response to divine will. In the Kabbalah virtue angels express the creative power of Netzach (which means "victory"). The power to overcome evil with good means that miracles are always possible in any circumstances, no matter how difficult they may be. The Bible describes virtue angels showing up on the scene of a major miracle in history: the ascension to heaven of the resurrected Jesus the Christ. The virtues appear as two men dressed in bright white clothing, and they speak to the crowd of people gathered there. Acts 1:10-11 records: "'Men of Galilee,' they said, 'why do you stand here looking into the sky? This same Jesus, who has been taken from you into heaven, will come back in the same way you have seen him go into heaven.'"

Virtues work to help people develop a strong foundation of faith, and they urge people to base all of their decisions on that foundation so their lives will be stable and strong. Archangel Uriel the angel of Earth, is a leading virtue angel. Uriel serves as a stabilizing force in people's lives by giving them down-to-earth wisdom to apply to their daily decisions.

Powers or Authorities

The primary duty of the "Powers" is to supervise the movements of the heavenly bodies in order to ensure that the cosmos remains in order. Being warrior angels, they also oppose evil spirits, especially those that make use of the matter in the universe, and often cast evil spirits to detention places.

These angels are usually represented as soldiers wearing full armor and helmet, and also having defensive and offensive weapons such as shields and spears or chains respectively. The Powers are the bearers of conscience and the keepers of history. They are also the warrior angels created to be completely loyal to God. Some believe that no Power has ever fallen from grace, but another theory states that Lucifer was the Chief of the Powers before he Fell. Their duty is to oversee the distribution of power among humankind, hence their name.

Principalities, Archangels and Angels.

Angels who function as heavenly guides, protectors, and messengers to human beings.

Principalities

Principalities are a choir of angels who remind people to look for wisdom and respond to those thoughts by encouraging, guiding, and sending new ideas to those facing challenges.

Often, when a world leader needs help making decisions, it's a principality angel who helps, since they have been assigned to supervise all nations on Earth. They encourage people to regularly practice spiritual disciplines that will help them grow closer to their spiritual selves.

Developing and maintaining good spiritual habits is the way to wisdom, these wise angels know, so they're constantly urging humans to do so. If someone is dealing with a great deal of stress or worrying about something a lot, principality angels will try to break through to that person's mind with suggestions.

People who are facing challenging circumstances often hear from principality angels when they ask for help. Principalities answer those prayers in two ways: by giving people joy that transcends difficult situations and motivates people and by sending people ideas they can use to solve difficult problems.

Archangel Haniel the angel of joy, is a leading principality angel who often directs other principalities to respond to requests from people seeking encouragement. Haniel and other principalities refresh people's perspectives when they've become discouraged, so they can see that there is always hope for them.

Archangel Chamuel another principality was present in the Garden of Gethsemane as Jesus ascended from his Adam body to his Christed body of light, his lightbody.

Principality angels are also known for their work overseeing the various areas on Earth that have their own government: nations, states, provinces, counties, cities, towns, villages, etc.. They deliver universal wisdom to leaders as they face decisions about how best to govern people in specific areas.

In the process, principalities help leaders learn how to be graceful as they govern. They urge leaders to balance truth and love as they exercise their authority over people.

Throughout history, principality angels have inspired people working in the arts and sciences with new ideas. Wise principalities love to answer people's requests for inspiration by planting thoughts in people's minds that help them make progress on their work. Whether it's helping someone compose beautiful music or revealing information to someone that leads to a scientific breakthrough, principality angels have often delivered the brilliant ideas that humans have prayed for through the years.

Principalities usually work in partnership with people's individual guardian angels to deliver these fresh ideas in ways that people can best receive and incorporate into their lives.

The Principalities preside over the bands of angels and charge them with fulfilling the divine ministry. There are some who administer and some who assist.

The Principalities are shown wearing a crown and carrying a sceptre. Their duty also is said to be to carry out the orders given to them by the upper sphere angels and bequeath blessings to the material world. Their task is to oversee groups of people. They are the educators and guardians of the realm of earth. Like beings related to the world of the germinal ideas, they are said to inspire living things to many things such as art or science.

Archangels and Angels

Archangels are the highest-ranking angels in heaven. They are given the most important responsibilities, and they travel back and forth between the heavenly and earthly dimensions as they work on missions from God/Goddess to help human beings. In the process, each archangel supervises angels with different types of specialties – from healing to wisdom -- who work together on the light ray frequencies that correspond to the type of work they do. By definition, the word "archangel" comes from the Greek words "arche" (ruler) and "angelos" (messenger), signifying archangels' dual duties: ruling over the other angels, while also delivering messages to human beings.

Archangels in World Religions

Zoroastrianism, Judaism, Christianity, and Islam all give some information about the archangels in their various religious texts and traditions. However, while the different religions all say that archangels are incredibly powerful, they don't agree on the details of what the archangels are like. Angels don't have a specific gender and can appear to humans in any form they choose, according to what will best accomplish the purpose of each of their missions.

Some scriptures imply that there are too many angels for humans to count. Only God knows how many archangels lead the angels that he has made. In the spiritual realm, archangels have the honour of enjoying time directly in the Divines presence, checking in often to get new assignments for their work on Earth helping people. Archangels also spend time elsewhere in the spiritual realm fighting the darkness. One archangel in particular -- Michael -- directs the archangels and often takes the lead to battle evil with good, according to accounts in the Torah, Bible and Quarán.

On Earth Guardian angels are assigned to protect each individual person on Earth, but archangels are often sent to accomplish earthly tasks of a larger scale. For example, the archangel Gabriel is known for his appearances delivering major messages to people throughout history.

Christians believe that God sent Gabriel to inform Mother Mary that she would become the mother of Jesus on Earth, while Muslims believe that Gabriel communicated the entire Qur'an to the prophet Muhammad. Seven archangels supervise other angels who work in teams to help answer prayers from people according to the type of help for which they're praying. Since the angels travel through the universe using the energy of light rays to do this work, various rays represent the kinds of angelic specialties.

They are:

- *Blue (power, protection, faith, courage, and strength - led by Archangel Michael)
- *Yellow (wisdom for decisions - led by Archangel Jophiel)
- *Pink (representing love and peace - led by Archangel Chamuel)
- * White (representing the purity and harmony of holiness - led by Archangel Gabriel)
- * Green (representing healing and prosperity - led by Archangel Raphael)
- * Red (representing wise service - led by Archangel Uriel)* Purple (representing mercy and transformation - led by Archangel Zadkiel)

Their Names Represent Their Contributions

People have given names to the archangels who have interacted with humans throughout history. Most of the archangels' names end with the suffix "el" ("in God"). Beyond that, each archangel's name has a meaning that signifies the unique type of work that he or she does in the world. For example, archangel Raphael's name means "God heals," because Raphael delivers healing to people who are suffering spiritually, physically, emotionally, or mentally.

Another example is the archangel Uriel's name, which means "God is my light." Uriel shines the light of divine truth on the darkness of people's confusion, helping them seek wisdom.

The word "angels" or malakhim means messenger or envoy, are the lowest order of the angels and the most recognized. They are the ones most concerned with the affairs of living things. Within the category of the angels, there are many different kinds, with different functions. The angels are sent as messengers to humanity. Personal guardian angels come from this class and we will cover more about this later.

The Four Watchtower Angels

The four cardinal points of the universe North, South, East and West are guarded and protected by the four Watchtower Archangels, each having their own point. The healing procedure that you will be learning will be connecting you with these four cardinal points and these four Watchtower Archangels, you will be working with very powerful frequencies and beings of light.

At each of these cardinal points, angels gather to receive their missions as overseen by the Archangel who works with them. It is important that you know which point each Archangel covers.

Archangel Uriel, the Watcher of the North

The Archangel Uriel is one of the seven Archangels that stand at the throne of the God Creator and one of the four major Archangels that serve humanity. Uriel, whose name means 'Light of God', is the angel who brings humankind knowledge and understanding of the Divine. He is the most radiant of angels and has been depicted descending from heaven on a fiery chariot drawn by white horses.

Archangel Uriel's color is an amber yellow. His stone is Amber, which is actually a fossilized tree resin and a powerful stone of protection known to transmute negative energies into positive ones that heal. Hibiscus and raspberry leaves are also associated with Uriel and can help you manifest a more physical connection with him.

He has been variously called the Flame of God, Angel of the Presence, and Angel of Salvation. He is also known as the Prince of Light and interpreter of prophecies. Uriel rules the mental plane, our thoughts and ideas, creativity, insights, judgment, magic, alchemy, astrology, universal consciousness, divine order, the distribution of power, the cosmic universal flow and the Earth's environment.

Uriel is humanity's link to the spiritual realms and he can show us how to find our inner power through a process that will help each individual Shift in consciousness and therefore accelerate the entire human kingdom's shift into higher realms of consciousness. As the Archangel of Salvation, Uriel can show us how to heal every aspect of lives, turning disappointments into victories, find blessings in adversity, and release the painful burdens and memories of the past through the application of unconditional forgiveness. Uriel uses his flaming sword to purify mental and emotional understanding and transmute lower vibrational energies into enlightened spiritual understanding.

Uriel brings the power of unconditional forgiveness to humanity as the key to transcending the Shift entering the higher realms of energetic vibration and consciousness. He is releasing his message at this time because humanity has indicated, through its willingness to embrace the Shift in Consciousness, that it is ready to listen, act and transcend the human experience.

Uriel helps us interpret our inner voice and our dreams. He guides us towards understanding our essential nature and towards taking more responsibility for our lives. With his guidance we have the possibility of fulfilling our potential as creative spirits. Uriel helps us to find our inner light and to become as radiant as the sun when we express the fullness of the love and beauty within ourselves.

Archangel Raphael, the Watcher of the East

Archangel Raphael brings us the gift of healing and shows us how to heal ourselves through love and Joy; he allows us to find healing in nature and in the universal energies.

His name means “divine healer” or “God heals”. Any healing starts from him and, being a messenger of Divine Providence, it is him who guides those who seek unity. He gives essential and complete healing of any kind of evil. In other words, he is the return to the divine source.

Raphael intervenes to save our body, mind and heart, he soothes our suffering. He leads us to authentic therapists who can do something for us. And, when we truly assume our own healing, he encourages the potential healer in ourselves, who knows intuitively what is best for our health and vitality.

Archangel Raphael has in his care the healing of the Earth and of its inhabitants. He is the one who watched over Abraham’s recovery after the circumcision and it is him who handed Moses the herbarium that allowed him to cure all diseases. The book of Tobit, from the Old Testament, tells the story of how Raphael gave the sight back to Tobit’s father, using an ointment made from the gallbladder of a giant fish.

Raphael is quoted as being the protector of the evening winds, the guardian of the Tree of Life from the Garden of Eden, angel of repentance, prayer, love, joy and light. But he is mostly the angel of healing, science, knowledge and grace, who watches over all of humanity.

Raphael teaches us that perfect health is when love completely fills the heart, the mind, the entire body. A person that is full of love is never ill. If illness occurs, this is a sign of a lack of love due to sadness, anger, jealousy, envy or any negative feeling, which must be identified, understood, and replaced with love.

To obtain healing, love is enough. When two or more hearts unite in the same desire, God acts more and he can only fulfil that desire. Love is much stronger than fear, but it is harder to build in each atom of our being. Sometimes, people even fear love.

When we want something, we should be convinced that that thing has already come true and to relate to it as if it had already happened. This shows complete faith in the choice we made, in personal transformation, and this way nothing can stop the fulfillment of the desire.

If we manifest constant trust and love, everything is possible, with the condition that we have the necessary discernment to select our desires and needs.

In our search full of hope and desire for healing, even with our minds and hearts hurt, we come close to Raphael's bright wings and we have access to divine kindness.

Raphael will constantly aim to lead us to greater unity and harmony. It is enough to ask him with all our heart to lead us to the only real doctor, God.

Archangel Michael, the Watcher of the South

Michael is the archangel of the first ray of protection, faith and the will of the God/Goddess. He is the Prince of the Archangels and of the Angelic Hosts, the Defender of the Faith, the Angel of Deliverance and his divine complement is Archeia Faith. The Book of Daniel calls him "the great prince which standeth for the children of thy people." Archangel Michael is the sponsor of police departments and law enforcement agencies around the world. Archangel Michael has figured as the greatest and most revered of angels in many scriptures and spiritual traditions.

In Muslim lore, he is the angel of nature who provides both food and knowledge to man. Archangel Michael is identified with the angel who wrestled with Jacob, destroyed the armies of Sennacherib and saved the three Hebrew boys in the fiery furnace in Jewish mystical tradition. Archangel Michael also appears in the Bible as the angel who appeared to Joshua as he prepared to lead the Israelites in battle at Jericho. Archangel Michael's etheric retreat is in the Canadian Rockies at Banff, near Lake Louise. He also has a focus of light over Central Europe. His keynote is The Navy Hymn (Eternal Father, Strong to Save).

The keynote of Archangel Michael's retreat is the Soldiers' Chorus from the opera Faust, by Charles Gounod. The music of the Bridal Chorus from Wagner's Lohengrin may also be used to invoke the radiance of the seven archangels and the angelic hosts.

Archangel Michael Freeing Souls From the Astral Plane Archangel Michael and his legions daily descend into the astral plane fully arrayed in their mighty blue armor, carrying their shields and swords of blue flame. There they cut free those who have passed from the screen of life and who are unable to rise to higher octaves of service and the retreats of the masters.

He and his angels of deliverance work twenty-four hours a day on these levels rescuing souls from the accumulation of their own human creation over the centuries and also from the projections of the dark ones. They have served there for many ages, and Michael says that he is determined to never give up until the last child of light on this planet has risen to the God Source in the ritual of the ascension.

Archangel Michael and the Guardian Angels

Archangel Michael is a very special angel to us. He, with his legions of light, has dedicated himself for thousands and thousands of years to the safety, the security, the perfectionment of our souls and to our protection; caring for us, sponsoring us, rebuking us, giving us to understand that we each have a blueprint in life, that we have a divine plan.

Archangel Gabriel, the Watcher of the West

Archangel Gabriel and Hope are archangel and archeia of the fourth ray of the resurrection and the ascension flame. Together with the angels of purity and the seraphim, these twin flames guard the immaculate concept of the God design for every man, woman and child upon the planet.

Gabriel's name means "God is my strength." Gabriel (who is female) is the famous angel who told Elizabeth and Mary of the impending births of their sons, John the Baptist and Jesus of Nazareth, respectively. The Archangel Gabriel also dictated the spiritual text of Islam, The Koran, to Mohammed. As a result, Gabriel became known as the "Messenger" angel. Gabriel's role continues in the world, helping both parents and human messengers.

Archangel Gabriel is a powerful and loving messenger of Divine love, wisdom, and guidance. Gabriel is the Archangel of communication, new beginnings, and strength. She will assist you in learning to tune into messages of Divine love for yourself, and in opening to allow Divine strength to flow throughout your life.

When called upon Gabriel will bring you inspiring messages to assist you in finding your highest calling. If your spiritual vision has been blocked, and you desire to receive visions of angelic guidance regarding the direction you are headed, call upon Archangel Gabriel to open your third eye to clearly see Divine love.

In the first role Gabriel salutes each mother-to-be with the glad tidings of the coming of the child for whom she is privileged to prepare the body temple. She places the electronic pattern of the Christ Self of the incoming child within the aura of the mother in order that the body elementals of mother and child, under the direction of their Christ Selves, may work together to bring forth the perfect form.

The angelic hosts work with the parents to anchor in the child the highest and best talents developed in previous embodiments and stored in the causal body. Gabriel gives strength and courage to these parents, and helps moms-to-be stay centered in blissful faith to create the best atmosphere for their baby.

In the second role, the archangel helps anyone whose life purpose involves art or communication. Call upon Gabriel for help, guidance, and agenting if you're an actor, artist, author, dancer, journalist, model, musician, reporter, singer, songwriter, teacher, or do anything involving delivering spiritual messages.

Gabriel will open doors to help you express your talent in a big way. The archangel also acts as a coach, inspiring and motivating artists and communicators, and helping them to overcome fear and procrastination. Gabriel has long been known as a powerful and strong archangel, and those who call upon her will find themselves pushed into action that leads to beneficial results.

Gabriel is definitely an archangel of action! She says, "I'm here to manage those who speak up and speak out on behalf of societal needs. This process of advocacy is an ancient one, and few things have changed over the course of time, save for some technological advances. In other arenas, though, art and speech have maintained a constant and steady force, lending power to people who desire change and helpfulness. Allow me to open the doors of opportunity for those among you hearing your heart's call to perform, play, and create on a wider scale."

Archangel Gabriel helps with: Adopting a child Artists and art-related projects Child conception and fertility Journalism and writing Television and radio work.

About Guardian Angels

We all have at least one guardian angel, they will have chosen to work with you from your inception, they will have guarded over your soul throughout your mothers pregnancy and at the moment of birth they step in to guide you from the realm of spirit into the physical world, which for some souls can be a frightening process, but your guardian angel will be there to gently support you.

Because time doesn't exist in the angelic realms they can be everywhere at once and they remain energetically connected to you throughout your life, waiting patiently by your side, whispering in your ear to guide you, leaving you little signs to show they are there, and folding you in their wings when you cry.

They never leave you and you are never alone. They will also be the ones who will guide you back to the realms of light when it is your time to leave the physical plane behind, they will be there to walk you back there and you will instantly recognise them.

Angels don't have a physical form but they have the ability to appear to you in a form you would recognise so as you don't feel afraid; They are actually just pure white loving energy with the purest of hearts, vibrating deep, deep unconditional love. People who have experienced being visited by their Guardian Angels have described the experience in many ways.

"I was at a really low point in my life, I had 5 children and a violent husband of 15 years, I had thrown myself into my job and was very successful but very unhappy and I would drown myself in alcohol every night to avoid the pain of what I was experiencing.

One night I was woken up in the middle of the night, the whole room was filled with bright, white light and my heart ached with a feeling of deep love that came from the light, I actually thought I had died and had woken up in heaven. I said to the light, "Is that you Lord?", I got no answer but I just felt this aching in my heart of deep, deep love that was actually hard to hold.

The light stayed by my side for about 20 mins holding me in its love and I knew it was an angel who had come to trigger a memory of being in the light and the joy of knowing that I was never alone and always loved.

The memory of that feeling I hold in my body to this day and set my life on a new path to rediscover my spiritual self which I had disconnected from as a child.” Helene

How your guardian angel works with you

Guardian Angels don't all work in the same way. They seem to adapt their approach according to their personality or ours. Some angels are more hands-on than others. They like to make it clear that they are with us. Some are gentle and prefer to stand back and wait to be invited in.

But they are always around us, they are energetically linked to us so they know immediately if we are in danger or when we are sad, and they celebrate with us when we are happy. At great moments in our lives it is said that the angels come together as a magnificent choir with golden trumpets and they sing to us. I feel that this happens particularly at the birth of a child.

Most angels use signs to show that they are with us. It's hard for them to manifest fully into our dimension. Their world is so different from ours.

Our human eyes find it almost impossible to see them, so they use other means of communicating their presence.

White feathers

This is the most common sign that angels are around us and the most widely reported, the feathers can appear in the most unusual and unlikely of places and usually turn up when we are going through distressing situations or left for us just to reassure us that they are there.

“My father had been put on an end of life care plan and had been given 10 days left before he died, I was distraught at seeing him suffering as he slipped in and out of consciousness, I didn’t want him to suffer any more. On the evening of the 9th day I left him seemingly unconscious at the hospital having sat by his bed with a lit candle and some beautiful angel music. I left the hospital in tears to walk to my car as I got close to my car there suddenly appeared a carpet of tiny white feathers that blew all around me, circling round and around me as I stood there. I knew it was a message from the angels to let me know that they were with my father on his journey. Later that night I received a phone call from the hospital that my father had passed to the light in his sleep, and though it was devastating on some level I knew he was safe” Andrea

Messages

Angels have many ways they can communicate messages to us if they want us to be aware of something. Sometimes this is in the form of a piece of music which you keep hearing in the car or in the bar, and sometimes they can even use the power of modern technology to let you know you need to listen to it, you have to work out why you need to listen to it.

So, my message to you is that your Guardian Angel whispers gently in your ear, nudging you to make choices for your higher good and to hold your hand whilst you take a brave step that can sometimes feel like the hardest step to make. They will not let you fall, trust.

Angels and children

The children born at this time have a very special connection to the angelic realm, we refer to all children born since 1999 as Crystal Children, though there were some born before this time and a few as far back as the 1960's who came here to pave the way for the new Crystal Children that were to be born, to hold a space on the planet for them.

These children were born with a 5th dimensional energetic template completely sustained by the new fifth dimensional grid of the earth, they are uniquely attuned to energy, light and crystals. Due to their enlightened consciousness they see, sense and feel on a heart level, they are more attuned to vibration and frequency, allowing them to co-create consciousness through the use of extrasensory perception.

They hold more light and therefore respond more effectively to sound and light technology.. They see and feel their interdimensional reality and live a spiritually elevated consciousness. Though their minds are more universally and cosmically expanded, they feel a deep connection to nature. Since they were born, these children have been living in a world that is only now beginning to create itself. I refer to these children as little earth angels.

Crystal children are light bearers, they hold pure energy, are very honest, and are compelled to seek truth. These children cannot hide their true feelings in order to protect those around them or to accommodate archaic norms, and can often shy away from people who are suppressed or restricted in their thoughts or behaviour.

As a result, those who are connected to Crystal Children are often triggered to clear the pain, insecurity and fear that buried us within the old third dimensional matrix. Being true to yourself, and living by what you preach, will have a resounding impact on the growth of your Crystal Child.

These children hold the flame for spiritual purity and strength, enabling them to innately discern between that which is 'good' and 'bad'. They live by universal principles, trusting their inner guidance and staying true to how they feel, regardless of whether this is confronting to others.

These children hold the resources to reveal and clear unbalanced behaviours, thoughts and emotions in others. In this way, Crystal Children are global healers. Crystal Children are more connected to their heart which is where they run their consciousness from. They are therefore more emotionally open, and are more able to stay true to how they feel, Their strengths, and their vulnerabilities, are always on display.

Because they live in a state of oneness with the Earth and Spirit, these children are more humanitarian in nature, and are less judgemental in their perception. They are born with a more unconditional heart.

These crystal children are the angelic realms light ambassadors on earth, they have a unique vibration, energy body and light.

They are connected to their light body at all times, something we traditionally only used to connect to at the point of death, but these children are born with this connection. They live constantly plugged in if you like to the world of spirit and the physical realm of Earth.

It can be quite hard for them to understand what is going on and what they are experiencing and the angelic realm support them greatly in this. You will often hear crystal children talking about seeing and talking with angels, especially at night time, which is when we are most open to the other realms.

My advice to you if your child talks about these experiences is to make sure you do not go into fear around it, otherwise your child will pick up on that and start going into fear themselves.

There were many of us born in the 60's, 70's with these spiritual connections intact, we chose to incarnate here to hold a place for these crystal children on the planet as part of bigger universal plan to lift the energy of humanity. The angelic realm are part of that plan.

Angels and Animals

How many of you have had a pet? Im guessing pretty much all of us have had a pet at some time or another. What did you learn from having your pet? If you think back you will remember your pet with a warm loving feeling in your heart. Your dog or cat who would wait patiently to greet you with unbounded love and joy at seeing you, jumping up and on you to say hi. Your pet who would wrap themselves around you to go to sleep, even sleeping on or by your bed protecting you while you slept.

The greatest gift your pet gave to you was the experience of unconditional love, you loved your pet and your pet loved you. I believe that our pets and the animal kingdom are an extension of the angelic realm, they come to us so that we can experience unconditional love in the physical realm, so many people think of their pets as their children which I can totally understand, the unassuming, non-judgemental, unconditionally loving being that loves you for you. When we are lonely or sad, our pets sense that and they come and sit by us or put their heads on our knees looking up at us as if to say “whats wrong? I feel your pain, Im here for you now”.

Pets create healing in our emotional plane, cats, dogs, rabbits when they are stroked take on our negative energy and walk it off into the earth. How amazing is that !

The angelic realm sometimes send us messages through the animal kingdom, the robin is one of their special favourites. You may notice when you are outside in nature or in the garden and you are thinking about someone who has died, that a red robin turns up and watches you.

This is a message from the angelic realm that your loved one is still around you in spirit, you may even sense your loved one through the robins eyes, it's a really special feeling.

Angels sometimes take on the form of animals, this is Emilys' story.
“One night as Emily was walking home from an evening college class, she became aware that no one was in sight. No one, that is, except a tough-looking group hanging out in the shadows about 50 feet in front of her.

With each step Emily took, she felt the group become more menacing, undressing her with their looks. Afraid to walk too close to them, Emily turned and began to walk quickly away. Her fears grew as she heard rapid footsteps behind her. The gang was chasing her.

Fearing for her life, Emily prayed, “Oh, God, Help. Do something to save me!”

The instant she prayed Emily became even more frightened when she saw two ferocious dogs suddenly appear from nowhere, growling and running straight for her. Emily braced herself for their attack, but the dogs ran past her and headed for the gang. Emily heard startled cries.

When she turned to look, she saw the gang running for their lives. Then the dogs turned, trotted back to Emily, and walked quietly by her side for two blocks until she was safe at home.

Emily believes that her prayers were answered, and that the attack dogs were really her guardian angels. But was it just a coincidence the dogs appeared right when Emily needed help? It could have been, but it seems highly unlikely. The fact that they appeared mysteriously from nowhere and disappeared just as quickly is typical of the way angels work.

I believe it is possible that angels may temporarily take the form of an animal to carry out God's missions. And, there is no reason why guardian angels should not have chosen to appear in the form of attack dogs.

Believers from the world's major religions view both angels and animals as creatures made by God, just like human beings. While angels may seem ethereal and animals more down-to earth, they both love people -- angels help care for us, and animals give us companionship.

The love they give us often inspires us to love them back. Here's a look at what various religious texts have to say about angels and animals:

The Catholic Bible: An Archangel Uses a Fish for Healing

In the Book of Tobit, which is part of the Catholic Bible, Archangel Raphael uses an animal -- a fish -- to bring both spiritual healing to a woman named Sarah who was afflicted by a demon and physical healing to a man named Tobit who was blind.

The Bhavagad Gita: A Divine Force Lives Inside Both Angels and Animals
Hindus believe that the same divine force that empowers angelic beings (called devas) also lives inside animals. The Bhagavad Gita declares in chapter 5, verse 18: "An enlightened person -- by perceiving God in all -- looks at a learned person, an outcast, even a cow, an elephant, or a dog with an equal eye." The angelic devas may manifest in the form of animals when they appear on Earth, Hindus believe, so many statues of the devas in Hindu temples show the devas as animals -- such as tigers or elephants.

The Quran: Angels and Animals Join All of Creation in Worshiping God

In chapter 22 (Al Hajj), verse 18, the Quran declares that angels and animals join human beings and other parts of nature in worshipping the God who made them: "Have you not seen that before God prostrate all that are in the heavens and all that are in the earth, and the sun, and the moon, and the stars, and the mountains, and the trees, and the beasts, and a great number among mankind?"

The Hadith: Angels May Appear to Animals

The Hadith (a collection of the Muslim prophet Muhammad's teachings) says in Sahih Bukhari 4:522 that animals may see angels: "When you hear the crowing of cocks, ask for Allah's Blessings, for (their crowing indicates that) they have seen an angel..."

Angels and Relationships

In this section we will look at how the angels work with us in our many different types of relationships, be that a friendship, a family relationship or a partner relationship. The amazing Doreen Virtue describes it best!

"The angels can help you with romance, whether you're in a committed relationship or single. If you're looking for your soul mate, the "romance angels" can help you find your special someone. A powerful method for invoking the angels' help is to find a quiet location where you won't be interrupted, and write a letter that starts like this:

"Dear Guardian Angels of My Soul Mate," Then, pour out your heart to these angels in the body of the letter. It doesn't matter whether you know who your soul mate is, because the angels do.

Then conclude the letter by saying something like: "I know that my soul mate is looking for me with the same fervour as I am looking for him/her. Thank you for guiding us to meet, love, and experience a joyful and harmonious relationship based upon mutual respect, integrity, shared interests, and passionate romance."

The romance angels can also infuse new passion into existing relationships. Ask them to help you and your partner recover your playful side, which is an important ingredient of romance. The angels say that many couples become overly focused on work and responsibilities, and they need to make time for playful and loving interactions. The romance angels can help you find time for this important endeavour, and also give you the energy to carry through.

Relationships with Friends

Our relationships sometimes change when we commit to a spiritual path, which includes working with the angels. If you have a friendship that began when you were focused on the material world, you may feel yourself pulling away from that friend as your focus becomes more spirit-centred.

For one thing, your interests may grow apart. For another, the Law of Attraction Law of says that we're attracted to people who are on the same wavelength as we are. So, someone who's focused on love and peace won't be attracted to someone whose focus is fear.

Ask your angels to help you through these shifts and changes in your relationships. Ask them to bring peaceful resolutions to any relationships that are ending. The angels can also bring you wonderful new friends, if you'll simply ask.

Relationships with Family Members

In the same way, your family interactions may change as you become more spiritually focused. If you come from a more traditional family, they may at first worry about your spirituality. Don't try to convince or convert anyone to your new way of thinking.

The best way to handle this sort of situation is to be peaceful and happy. In that way, you're a walking advertisement for the benefits of living on the spiritual path. As people notice your peacefulness, they'll soon ask you about the secret to your happiness. The angels guide us to release resentment and anger as an avenue to peace. Most of us have experienced pain in our relationships with family, friends, and lovers. The angels ensure that this pain doesn't ruin our present and future health and happiness.

If someone has performed an action that you feel is unforgivable, the angels won't ask you to change your mind and say, "What they did is okay." Instead, the angels want you to release the poisonous anger within your mind and body. When we hold resentment, we attract similar relationships and situations to us.

Releasing Resentment

If you're tired of unhealthy relationship patterns, the likely culprit is unforgiveness toward a family member. The word forgiveness is a synonym for "releasing toxins," and replacing them with health and peace.

The angels can help you with this, if you'll ask. One effective way to release emotional toxins is to call upon Archangels Michael and Jeremiel as you're falling asleep. That's because when you're sleeping, you're more open to angelic intervention.

When you're awake, your ego's fear can block the angels' help. Say to the archangels, either silently or aloud: "I ask that you clear away any old anger, pain, resentment, judgments, bitterness, or unforgiveness from my mind, body, and emotions. I am willing to exchange pain for peace. I now release to you anything that may be blocking my awareness of peace, especially within my relationships."

When you awaken, you'll notice a positive shift. It doesn't matter whether you recall your dream interactions with the archangels or not, as their work is on the unconscious level.

The angels can clear old issues with people who are living or deceased. These healings don't mean that you have to reignite a relationship with the person.

The intention is to clear the path for you to feel love, peace, and harmony in all areas of your life.

Relationship Healing with the Angels

You can heal misunderstandings by talking to the other person's guardian angels as well.

Although the angels can't violate anyone's free will, they will intervene into any situation that's affecting your peace—including relationship woes. In these situations, close your eyes and centre yourself through breath.

Then, hold the intention of talking with the other person's guardian angels. You can't make a mistake and do this incorrectly, as the intention is more important than the method you use. Then, pour out your heart (either silently, in a letter, or aloud) to that person's angels. Tell them about your fears, anger, disappointments, and desires.

Next, ask the angels to bring about peace in the relationship. Don't tell the angels how to do so, or you'll slow or miss the answer to your prayer.

Allow the infinite creative wisdom of God's Divine Mind to come up with an ingenious solution that will delight everyone involved.

Earth Angels

What Are Earth Angels? What to do and how to know if you are one...

The simple truth is that at the core level, we are all spiritual beings of light. There are however certain souls with certain characteristics making up what the Archangels call 'Earth Angels'.

So Wait... What are Earth Angels?

Earth Angels are spiritual beings born into physical form. They are born into the physical world at this point in time in which multiple timelines are merging in order to

- serve humanity and the earth
- assist all souls in the awakening and ascension process
- help in anchoring the timeline of light, love, and peace to bring the earth and humanity into the golden age of co-creation

Earth Angels are evolved spiritual beings. They are 7th and 9th dimensional Angelics incarnated into physical form. In order to be born as physical human beings, they lowered their vibration.

But here's the thing. They came programmed with a wake-up call. They were born with a time to awaken. This could be a series of happenings, lessons, or events in order to awaken their divine truth. Although they are physical beings, they retain the connection to their higher Angelic counterparts.

Really, all souls originate from the same Divine Source, but there are many different paths and paradigms souls can take which shape their characteristics, missions, and even personalities.

Earth Angels are people whose soul origins are from beyond Earth, and who have spent a great deal of time in the higher spiritual dimensions of love and light...

Earth Angels are those who have an overarching prayer and wish to bring peace, light and love to the Earth, humanity and all beings.

While everyone on Earth now is a spiritual being, not everyone is an Earth Angel. Earth Angels are highly spiritually evolved as souls, they vibrate with an incredible light, and have been called to Earth on a mission to serve as lightworkers.

Earth Angels are different from incarnated angels which you can learn more about here.

What Does Being An Earth Angel Really Mean?

Being an Earth Angel doesn't mean you are perfect, it doesn't mean you're an angel (the angelic path is different from the path of humanity) and it doesn't even mean that you're saint like.

Like all of humanity, Earth Angels make mistakes, experience challenges, and feel disconnected at times. Being an Earth Angel means that you're called at the soul level to help others, spread kindness, have compassion and make a difference on Earth by bringing the light and love of the higher spiritual realms into physical reality.

Why Crystals?

Certain crystals can be of great assistance in establishing angelic contact. These 'angel crystals' are highly spiritual stones that possess metaphysical properties which can help you in connecting with angels, spirit guides, and the Higher Self.

They can raise your conscious awareness by raising the vibrational frequency of your physical self to come into tune with your non-physical Higher Self. The higher your consciousness is raised, the easier it becomes to establish communication with those residing at higher planes of consciousness, such as angels, guardians, and spirit guides.

These crystals amplify your desire or intent to connect with an angel or spirit guide, thus elevating your Higher Self to within reach of the Spirit Realm where divine contact may be accessed. One way to use these angel crystals to connect with the angelic realms is through dreams.

Put an angel stone under your pillow or hold one in your hand as you drift off to sleep. Have your intention and question placed firmly in the forefront of your mind. Try to keep your mind clear from any other extraneous thoughts, and keep it focused on your intention until sleep takes over.

In general, most angel focused crystals will be colored blue, green, pink/lavender, or white/clear. Most angel stones will work to accomplish three things: calm and ease fears, elevate consciousness, and open the upper chakras. Carry them, wear them, keep them in your meditation space.

Keep in mind that the smaller the stone the closer you need to keep it to your body because it will have a smaller energy field.

To work as an Angelic Healer you will need to have crystals with you, you will be inviting the angels into your healing space, their angelic spirit raises the vibrations throughout a room and simultaneously lifts your energy.

The crystals will aid your connection to them and likewise their connection to you. Your crystals will also work with your energy field and whatever/whoever you are working with as they emit an electromagnetic charge which vibrates at a much higher frequency than ours.

This energy field works with specific areas of the physical, mental, emotional and spiritual planes creating a lifting effect and an energetic upgrade. One crystal is enough to have, but the more you have the easier it will be. One thing I will say is that when you start connecting with crystals and working with them it becomes a bit like buying shoes, you can never have enough and the bigger the better !

Your crystals will need to be cared for and cleansed every time you work with them as they hold the energy of whatever/whoever they are working with. You can simply cleanse your crystals by holding them under running water (the tap is fine) and saying to yourself “I transmute all negativity to the light”, you can also burn white sage around them and best of all put them outside in the full moon, they love it !

Angelite

Angelite

If you're only going to use one crystal or stone for connecting to the angels, this is the one to use. It is actually Blue Anhydrite but known almost exclusively by its metaphysical name, angelite. The name comes from the fact that it carries something of the strongest angelic vibrations of all crystals and stones.

Angelite helps to calm the nerves and create a sense of peace that may come up when working with the angels. It helps open up the two main chakras used in angel communication – the third eye and crown chakras. One of the key elements to angel communication is letting go of all blocks that get in the way of your intuitive senses.

Angelite does this perfectly. It is a very gentle crystal, similar to the kindhearted spirit of your guardian angel. It can be used to enter an angelic realm in which answers await questions you wish to ask the universe. The healing properties provided by this crystal include its ability to heighten your awareness increasing your level of divine protection. It is also known to bring spiritual inspiration and stimulate healing energies throughout your body.

Angelite is great for brining angels into your space, especially when you place your faith in your guardian angel and angelite's healing properties. Keeping angelite with you at all times can help really heal your psychic and spiritual blocks so you can open up to the angels and their guidance in your life.

Larimar

Introduction to the Meaning and Uses of Larimar

Larimar is the embodiment of the tranquil Sea and Sky energies. Its soft, soothing blues and calming turquoise is streaked with white patterns that resemble sunlight dancing beneath Caribbean waters. It brings the ancient wisdom of Atlantis and the healing power of the angels and dolphins to harmonize the body and soul.

Larimar is one of the cardinal Water element stones, yet is born of Fire in its volcanic origins. One of the few crystals to balance the polarities of these energies, Larimar cools tempers and calms fears, relieves stress and nurtures the physical and emotional bodies.

It is powerful in meditation and in connecting to the Divine Feminine, and is particularly helpful in releasing emotional bonds, patterns or principles that no longer serve the highest good. A stone of clear communication, it provides the strength and courage needed to speak openly from the heart. [Simmons, 228-229][Ahsian, 229]

Larimar is also known as the Dolphin Stone, Blue Pectolite, Atlantis Stone, and Stefilia's Stone. Originally discovered in 1916, it was named by the Dominican who re-discovered it in 1974, taking the first letters of his daughter's name, Larissa, and the Spanish word for the sea, mar, to create Larimar.

Larimar Uses and Purposes - Overview

Larimar is a crystal of serenity, promoting relaxation in every aspect. Use as a worry stone, or place in the home or workplace to assure a pleasant atmosphere. Hold as you sit on the seashore, or gaze into the sea-like patterns of the stone, to reconnect with the ebbs and flows of your inner tides.

As you sit in a bath surrounded by blue candles, use Larimar to connect with the healing powers of the dolphin through visualization or dolphin call music. Simply wearing Larimar creates a fundamental awareness of the "all-rightness" of the world.

Use Larimar to overcome fear of doctors, hospitals, injections or surgery. It promotes clear and confident communication with health personnel.

Larimar is a wonderful stone for mothers, during and after pregnancy. It helps in alleviating post-partum depression, and relaxes the stress associated with new parenthood.

As a soothing Water element stone, Larimar cools hot tempers and guides excessive passion into peace. It may be used to diminish the frequency and intensity of hot flashes, and when one's kundalini energies have become uncomfortably active.

As a crystal of the Throat Chakra, using Larimar in a pendant or laying-on-of-stones treatment will unleash the voice of one's deepest wisdom. Singers may also find Larimar a wonderful talisman for enhancing and protecting the voice.

Larimar is an excellent stone for finding a soulmate. It facilitates the healing of unresolved issues or fears, trauma to the heart, or past-life relationships.

Larimar Healing Therapies - Overview

Larimar Physical Healing Energy

Larimar is particularly helpful for cartilage and throat conditions, and dissolves blockages of the head, neck and chest. It may also be laid on constricted joints or arteries.

As a reflexology tool, Larimar opens the acupressure/acupuncture meridians at the feet allowing for the recognition of which painful spots lead to which areas of the body in order to remove and clear the dis-ease.

Larimar is used to enhance alternative treatments, particularly those involving heat, light, and water. It is an antidote to emotional extremes and helps ameliorate bipolar disorders.

Larimar relieves high blood pressure and stress-related illnesses, and may alleviate excessive Fire element energy such as infection, fever and inflammation. It may also be used to treat skin disorders aggravated by stress, such as hives, rashes, eczema and psoriasis.

Larimar Emotional Healing Energy

Larimar assists in identifying self-imposed limitations and self-sabotaging behavior, especially toward martyrdom, and encourages taking control of one's life. It is particularly useful in admitting guilt, when guilty, and in bringing about a sense of peace in truthfulness.

Larimar is a powerful emotional cleanser and healer, especially for phobias, panic attacks, stress-related imbalances, and excessive anger or fear. It aids in breaking down the walls one has built around the heart for defense, and allows for emotional release and the clearing of deep emotional patterns. It helps one to reconnect to a previous, more natural state of playfulness and joyful childlike energy.

A highly effective stone of the Throat Chakra, Larimar assists in communicating emotions and boundaries in a way others can hear and accept. It teaches the respect, love and nurturing of oneself in order to have the resources to give these gifts to others. It is an excellent crystal for healers and caregivers.

Larimar Chakra Healing and Balancing Energy

Larimar is a stone of tremendous benefit to the Throat Chakra, opening the way for clear communication and the ability to speak openly from the heart.

The Throat Chakra is the voice of the body, in essence, a pressure valve that allows the energy from the other chakras to be expressed. If it is blocked, or out of balance, it can affect the health of the other chakras. When the throat chakra is in balance and open, it allows for the expression of what we think and what we feel. We can communicate our ideas, beliefs, and emotions, bringing our personal truth out into the world. We have an easy flow of energy within the body and spirit. The energy that springs upward from the lower chakras can continue its path enabling free expression and natural release.

Larimar Spiritual Energy

Connected to the goddess energies of Sea and Sky, Larimar helps women to re-attune to their innate femininity and restore their connection with nature. It emanates vivaciousness, humor, and a sense of one's own power. It helps women to call upon the goddess within to fully manifest their highest purpose in life. It assists men in connecting with their feminine, intuitive and receptive natures.

Larimar is useful in dimensional and cellular work, and is an excellent mineral for purging entities from one's environment and one's corporeal existence. It may also be used for gridding to bring serenity into an environment and to bring a message of loving energy to those of other worlds.

Larimar is a stone for Earth healing. It represents peace and clarity, and emits an energy of healing and love. Placed on the earth, it counteracts earth energy imbalances and geopathic stress.

Meditation with Larimar

Larimar effortlessly induces a deep meditative state, raising consciousness and harmonizing the body and soul to new vibrations. It dissolves the boundaries of spiritual self and allows one's true pathway in life to be revealed. Larimar facilitates angelic contact and communication with other realms.

In meditation, Larimar helps one see and release undesirable attachments, and to disconnect from unhealthy inner bonds to other people or beliefs which no longer serve the better good. It opens the pathway to the "divine stair of ascension" allowing one to leave behind obsolete past commitments. Larimar is believed to channel ancient wisdom from Atlantis during meditation or sleep.

Larimar Goddess Crystals

Crystals of turquoise honor Sophia, the Goddess of Wisdom and contradiction personified. She is the story of being lost then regained, the wisdom of understanding, doubting, and spiritual exploration without dogma.

Larimar Amulets and Talismans

Larimar is a Seeker Harmonizer crystal. Seekers contain a crystal energy structure that aligns the natural energy of the crystal to the natural power of the human mind to find the way to new horizons and new capabilities. They're pointers, directors, and compasses; the fresh start crystals. These are talismans of the scientist, the adventurer, the hunter, wanderer, and explorer. They're also crystals of the student and the researcher.

Harmonisers, called the chain and band silicates, bind together in a long chain, distributing energy in a balanced, long-term way. They encourage efforts aimed at smoothing a path through difficulties, promoting harmonious relationships within a larger group, like family, and a peaceful acceptance of life's inherent situations.

Larimar Feng Shui

Larimar utilizes Water energy, the energy of stillness, quiet strength, and purification. It embodies potentialities unrealized. It is yielding, formless, yet powerful. The Water element brings power of regeneration and rebirth. It is the energy of the circle of life. Use Larimar crystals to enhance any space that you use for repose, calm reflection, or prayer. Water energy is traditionally associated with the North area of a home or room. It is associated with the Career and Life Path area, its flowing energy assuring a balance of energy as your life unfolds and flows.

Larimar in Ancient Lore and Legend

Larimar is sometimes called Atlantis Stone in reference to an ancient prophet's declaration that Atlantis was once part of the Dominican Republic, a claim affirmed by various authorities in metaphysics. He further declared that what made Atlantis great was the beautiful blue stone that carried healing powers. Its description bears an uncanny resemblance to Larimar.

Celestite

Celestite is an ethereal stone used for bridging the gap between you and the spiritual world. The celestite crystal's heavenly blue tones carry you into a deep sense of peace and instill a feeling of happiness within you. Its protective energy strengthens an angel's shielding love, which is used to surround us and keep us safe.

Like the uplifting spirit that resides at your side, celestite provides an external source of tranquility and harmony into your space. Paired together, the power of celestite and the angels around us can be exceptionally helpful in relieving intense states of stress and anxiety. The blue color carries a strong angelic vibration.

Celestite helps to heighten consciousness and raise your ability to communicate at a higher level. When you want to talk to your angels or meditate with them to gain guidance, hold the stone in your receptive hand, place it in your lap, or keep it next to you on your meditation altar. Ask your questions of the angels and remain open to the answers without expectations.

Angel Phantom Quarz

Angel Phantom quartz crystals are crystals, that over the course of millions of years, form over earlier crystals that already existed. It takes its name from the particular structure of its crystallization. Each crystal displays the outlines of numerous smaller crystals, known as phantoms. Phantoms symbolize the numerous lifetimes of the soul and take one traveling through multiple dimensions.

They break up old patterns and assists in reconnecting to ancient wisdom held in your memory. Therefore, because of these inclusions and what appears to look like ambiguous inner wings, Angel Phantom Quartz was discovered.

Angel Phantom Quartz provides us with a connection to the highest level of spiritual experience. It is a beautiful crystal for those who are beginning to work with the Angelic Realm, calling to your guardian angel and higher consciousness, that brings deep, inner joy. Unassuming and gentle, this active stone can be placed on the upper Chakra.

Kaolinite found in the Angel Phantom, which is white to gold tone, activates our spiritual evolvment, while assisting in the detoxification process. This is why it can be placed at the Crown Chakra in order to activate our spiritual awareness and the highest light of guidance.

It can ascend energy down along the “Chakra tree” to the Third Eye where it helps one gaze and attune to the wisdom of the Universal mind, allowing a more detached perspective on life and on evolution. At the Throat Chakra, it allows us to speak our truth and listen more intently. When this high vibration stone is placed at the Center or Heart Chakra, it can help one go to a place of deep Universal love and can assist in always acting from a place of love. Angel Phantom Quartz shifts the energies to where it is needed most. It brings the vibration of harmony to the place of most unrest.

Due to its mineral make-up, Limonite also in the Angel Phantom, which is the brown/yellow tones, provides us with inner strength and vitality. This is the reason it works so well at the Solar Plexus Chakra.

The Hematite, which is the red or black tones, can help provide protection by deflection. It assists with concentration, memory, self-control, practicality, original thinking, bookkeeping helps one study and all types of detailed work.

This is why it works so well at the Root Chakra. These minerals are captured in Quartz, which amplifies all these healing powers and transmits this wonderful energy. This new stone helps one open up new doorways and find adventure in the horizons and connects us beautifully to the angelic realm.

Angel Phantom Quartz can be used as a channel of communication between you and your guardian angel. The purpose of angel phantom quartz is to nurture the connection you share with your divine protector. While our guardian angels are watching over us at all times, the only way for us to receive their aid is if we directly place our faith in them and ask for their help.

Use these crystals to connect with angels and to call upon a specific angel, whether it is an angel of love, courage, strength, or even a group of angels combined, in order to gain a spiritual insight into your present situation.

Who is this suitable for, people, situations, buildings (workplace schools), animals, yourself

The Angels are amazing beings, they can help us in all aspects of life, all we need to do is to ask! They cannot intervene unless they are invited to do so. There must be times when they stand by our sides wanting to help but knowing they have to wait.

I'm guessing they must have some face in their hands moments as they see us doing the craziest of things, but as angels are totally unconditional in their love, they hold a space for us as we go through emotional pain/stress at some of the crazy decisions we make.

Sometimes it's part of our journey to fall, because often it's at our deepest point of despair when the suffering is too much that we turn our head to the heavens and shout out to the universe! It is also from these lowest points that we somehow find the strength to make the greatest changes in our lives.

I have seen high flying executives brought to their knees with a heart attack due to the huge amount of stress they had in their lives, to suddenly walk away from it all to do something that fed their soul instead of their bank account!

Oddly enough that might sound strange, BUT when we make decisions from our heart not our ego everything falls very quickly into the right place and we find ourselves creating wealth from a totally different source and usually much quicker.

An angelic healing can be used to bring healing and light to adults and children. It can also be used to bring healing to a difficult situation, a workplace or any other building, like your home. As we go through the procedure to run a healing, we will look at bringing in the energy of whatever it is that you are looking to be healed.

Intent behind what we do is everything, and we can work energetically on anything or anyone wherever they are. You can work on a client either with them present, or you can do it absently, you will be calling their energy into your healing space. With most children under the age of 12 this will be the method you will use because as you know, getting a 2 year old to lie down quietly for 45 minutes just isn't going to happen!!

When and how often can I do it

This healing procedure that you will learn is first and foremost to benefit you! To get the most from working with the energy, I suggest that you run it once a week on yourself. No matter how many other healings you are doing, you should always do one for yourself.

My suggestion is that you assign the same day for it every week so that it becomes a habit. Monday mornings or evenings is my suggestion, but we don't all have the luxury of peace and quiet on Monday mornings.

You can run this healing on yourself and others no more than 3 times per week per person, trust how you feel about it. By stepping into the role of an Angelic Healer, you set yourself up on a path as a lightworker and as such the universe takes note and will send you situations and people to really trigger you to change those things about your life that no longer serve you.

You will find that your group of friends and even your relationships will change. The reason for this is that like energy attracts like energy, you can see it in people if you look around you. Those people who are sadly addicts, draw addicts to them for partners. Those people who are very clever librarian types draw relationships to the same kind of librarian type.

So the more lightwork you do, the more you will clear density from your own body and your own energy will shift and vibration will increase in frequency. People who don't match your vibration will naturally drift away and you will find you attract and are drawn to people on the same path as you.

The changes can start to happen immediately and every time you run a healing either on yourself or others you will clear an aspect of yourself. You need time to integrate and work with these new frequencies in your body so running a personal healing on yourself no more than 3 times a week is very important.

By all means take some time for meditation, contemplation or prayer, whatever feels best to bring yourself back into peaceful balance on your days in between.

Can I do this if I practise other spiritual modalities?

The Angelic Healing modality is perfect to use alongside other healing modalities, there are no contra-indications to do so.

What will the Angelic Healing do?

The Angelic Healing will work on all four planes of the body, the physical plane, the mental plane, the emotional plane and the spiritual plane. It will also work on all aspects of your life, as you change so will your life !

It is a divinely orchestrated process and you simply act as a channel for the energy, it is very important that your ego does not become attached to what you are doing, what you are doing is of service to humanity, so beware of telling people that you are the best healer since the days of JC! I've seen it happen.

What happens in these situations is that the universe will send those people spiritual initiations to show them how distorted their ego has got. It will test you all at some point.

Specific symptoms that an Angelic Healing can help with.

It would probably be easier to say that there are no specific symptoms that an Angelic Healing can't help with, but if you wish to, you can do a list for your website that shows some.

Some people look for a healer who can help them with something specific and will look for an advert that has their exact symptoms.

Here are some suggestions for symptoms that you might want to use in an advert or on a website, as you will see they are quite general.

Stress, anxiety, sleeplessness, colds, feelings of uneasiness, tiredness, headaches, digestive issues, worry, strange ringing in the ears, back pain, generally feeling unwell, relationship issues, childhood issues, grief, etc

It is also important to stress that you should never guarantee to a client that you can heal them, it is also forbidden to use these words in most countries in adverts as it contravenes advertising regulations and can leave you open to a whole legal situation that you would rather not be dealing with!

It is also important to note that we have medical doctors for a reason and advising a client to see a doctor is also recommended if necessary. We are physical human beings too and you should never advise a client to stop any medication they have been prescribed.

How to prepare the room, clear, candles, crystals, pictures of angels (there might be a particular angel you feel drawn to work with)

To run a healing session you need an appropriate space to do it, if you are just setting up and cant afford to rent a therapy room, then using a room at home is fine, if you are just running it on yourself then your bedroom is fine, but you could clear a space in your sitting room if you wanted to run the healing on a client.

You will be connecting with the angelic realm as you run your healing and in order to make that connection easier you need to take the following steps.

1. Angels do not like clutter and mess, so clear the space you are working with so that it's tidy and clean.
2. Set up a little altar to put your equipment on, it could be just a coffee table with a cloth or pretty scarf over it.
3. Light at least 1 white candle, having 3 candles lit is the most powerful combination and is better than 1. Fire burns away negativity and white represents the vibration of purity.
4. Bring cleaned crystals into the room and put them on the altar. You will need to buy at least 2 of the angel crystals to use for your healings, there are 4 mentioned above but there are many others you could also use, aqua aura, blue tigers eye, blue howlite, lapis lazuli, blue topaz, chrysocolla, angelite, larimar, turquoise, sodalite, sapphire, kyanite, blue calcite, apatite, and amazonite. What is nice is to get small samples of all of these and to keep them in a little bag and when you are going to run a healing to choose (divine) 2 of these to work with you as you run the healing.

Put them on the altar next to the candle. You might like to read up on the properties of each of these crystals so that you can tell your client or understand for yourself, what this crystal is bringing to the healing. It can be a useful discussion tool when you've finished the healing.

To clean your crystals simply hold them under running water and say "I wash all negativity to the light".

You can of course use as many other crystals as you like in your room or on your altar AS WELL as your angel connection crystals.

5. It is always beautiful to have a picture of an angel up in the room you are working in, if you can't afford to buy one, download images from the internet.

6. The last recommendation is to try and find figurines of the four Watchtower Archangels, as it will be these powerful angels who we will be calling on in the healing.

7. The angelic realm love anything that gives an “angel feel” to the room, so maybe you can look for some ideas that inspire you, feathers, angel wings, little cherub statues etc.

Equipment needed

You will need

1. A comfy place for you to sit and a comfy place for your client to sit or lie, the reclining chairs from Ikea with a foot stool are ideal, as is a massage table.

It is important that your client is able to relax while they are having the healing, so you could even lie them on cushions on the floor, they will be there for about 30 minutes and very often they drift off to sleep !

2. A light blanket or wrap to put over your client.

3. Enough room to move around your client.

4. Something that you can play music on, an ipod, blue tooth speaker, cd player etc, and angel type music to play.

5. A way of keeping an eye on the time.

6. Your altar set up with candles, crystals, angel figurine.

7. Maybe you could use some light room fragrance spray or you could burn a little white sage or an incense stick. (not compulsory but these things help lift the frequency of a space, beware though, incense isn't for everyone as it triggers people to release their stuff !)

8. Have a note pad and pen ready.

9. 2 glasses of water one for each of you.

How to prepare yourself

When you are doing a healing you are a channel for the energies to work through you, it is important that you are as energetically clear as possible. You can do this by making sure you have showered and you are wearing clean clothes. It is good practise as a lightworker to shower every day and to wear a new set of clean clothes every day.

Clothes pick up on smells and energy around them and put a layer of energy around your body especially if they are dirty. Before your client turns up for the healing session, set your room up, take 5 minutes just to calm your mind and put the candles on, turn your phone off and turn the music on.

Prepare a healing record, either a piece of paper with their full name at the top and today's date, or you could print up some more professional looking sheets by creating something in Word etc

Make sure you know where the direction of North is in the room.

Use this format for your client record.

The Step by Step Healing Session.

1. Invite your client in and invite them to sit down first to talk. Make sure you collect from them on your sheet, their name, email address and telephone number.

Ask them why they have come and if there is anything specific going on in their lives that they wanted to let you know about. Write these things down on the healing sheet. Be friendly, patient, kind and reassuring, try not to get drawn into big long counselling type conversations at the beginning, people as soon as they enter your space will start releasing and the best way to help them do that is to get them into the healing energies.

You will probably find that what was a big issue for someone at the beginning of the healing becomes a minor irritation by the end as they will have shifted into their heart space.

2. When you are ready to start. Have your client sit or lie comfortably and ask them to close their eyes, tell them to just relax and close their eyes, and that they will not hear you speaking again until you have finished the healing. Tell them if they feel they are going to sleep that that is fine.

3. White Light Connection.

Point your hands towards the floor and imagine a bright white light coming up from the crystal grid of the earth, lift this light up from the earth through the room, through your body and your clients, lift it up towards the ceiling and see it spreading up and out towards the stars. You are creating a white light of clearing for the room and the both of you. (5 mins)

4. The 4 Pillars of Protection

In your mind call into the 4 corners of the room 4 pillars of light, as you look to each corner of the room imagine the pillar of light and protection coming up from the floor to ceiling height. You can use your hand to pull the pillar of light upwards.

5. The Guardian Support procedure

In your mind say or you can quietly whisper.

"I ask to connect to my guides to support me as I run this healing on _____, I ask to connect to _____ 's (insert name of client) guides and those beings of the highest frequency that wish to help and support his/her healing."

As you say these words feel these guides and beings come into your healing space.

6. The Golden Ray Connection Procedure

In your mind say or quietly whisper.

"I connect to the angelic realms and the golden angelic ray"

As you say these words feel, see and sense a beautiful, golden sparkling ray of light coming down from the heavens, it comes into the top of your room and showers golden light rays over everything and everyone in the room. See, sense and feel it filling every cell and atom of your and your clients body as you are washed with this golden light.

Feel your clients and your heart opening as you both radiate unconditional love. Hold this feeling and energy for about five minutes, you are making a very powerful connection to the angelic realms. (5 mins)

7. The Golden Dome of Healing Procedure.

Imagine your client is sitting/lying in the centre of a huge circle

Walk to the North point of the circle and stand and face North Say the following words quietly "I connect to Archangel Uriel and the energy of the North, I ask Archangel Uriel to come forward bringing the divine gifts of grounding, light, creativity and balance in the mental plane."

Wait, see, sense and feel Uriels energy coming into your space to stand at the North point of the circle. Feel the North point light up with a golden flame as she comes in. Walk to the South point of the circle and stand and face South Say the following words quietly " I connect to Archangel Michael and the energy of the South, I ask Archangel Michael to come forward bringing the divine gifts of the element of fire, protection, faith and strength"

Wait, see, sense and feel Micheals energy coming into your space to stand at the South point of the circle. Feel the South point light up with a golden flame as he comes in.

Walk to the East point of the circle and stand and face East

Say the following words quietly, " I connect to Archangel Raphael and the energy of the East, I ask Archangel Raphael to come forward bringing the divine gifts of element of air, healing, love and joy."

Wait, see, sense and feel Raphaels energy coming into your space to stand at the East point of the circle. Feel the East point light up with a golden flame as he comes in.

Walk to the West point of the circle and stand and face West

Say the following words quietly, "I connect to Archangel Gabriel and the energy of the West, I ask Archangel Gabriel to come forward bringing the divine gifts of the element of water, wisdom, guidance and emotional balance."

Wait, see, sense and feel Gabriels energy coming into your space to stand at the West point of the circle. Feel the West point light up with a golden flame as she comes in.

Return to stand behind your clients head/back depending on whether they are lying or sitting. Feel the energy of all 4 archangels and the light circle points.

With your right index finger point to the North flame and bring the North flame up and over above your heads to create one side of a dome of golden flame.

Turn to the South and with your right finger bring the South flame up above your heads to create the second side of the dome of golden flames.

Turn to the East and with your right finger bring the East flame up above your heads to create the third side of the dome of golden flames.

Turn to the West and with your right finger bring the West flame up above your head to create the final side of the dome of golden flames.

You and your client are now surrounded by a golden flame of angelic healing energy.

Sit at your clients head and quietly say, " I ask for healing, wisdom and guidance for -----(clients name)"

Sit there for anything up to 15 mins whilst the golden light of healing flames through every cell of both of you, feel, sense and see this happening. You will need to stay grounded throughout this as you are holding the space for your client to receive the healing.

During this time be open and receptive to any messages or insights you may receive for your client. You can write these down. Sometimes you get images in your mind of things that may seem irrelevant to you but will be of relevance to your client. Don't dismiss anything however random it may seem. Remember messages can be delivered as pictures. Don't be worried if you don't get any messages, or images, it doesn't mean nothing is happening, tune in to your clients feelings. If they have ended their healing session with nothing more than a sense of peace then that was what they needed. And what an amazing gift.

When you feel the energy start to ease off, trust your intuition on this, go onto the next procedure.

8. Closing Ceremony

Stand up and face the North and say, " We thank you and honour you Archangel Uriel for bringing your healing energy to _____ (clients name) Face the South and say, " We thank you and honour you Archangel Michael for bringing your healing energy to _____

-(clients name) Face the East and say, "We thank you and honour you Archangel Raphael for bringing your healing energy to _____ (clients name)

Face the West and say, "We thank you and honour you Archangel Gabriel for bringing your healing energy to _____ (clients name)

Feel the golden dome flames subside down into the earth

Say quietly, " I thank all the beings and guides that have come and supported _____ (clients name) in his/her healing today, and

I ask you to step back now from our healing space, with love and gratitude to you for all you have done.

See the four white pillars of light in the four corners of the room fade down back into the crystal grid of the earth.

9. Gently touch your client on their feet and say " _____ (clients name) it's safe to come back now into the moment, feel the ground beneath your feet, feel yourself connecting back into the Earth and when you feel ready open your eyes". It may take them a couple of minutes to come back and open their eyes and you may need to say this a couple of times. If they are taking a long time to come back you can hold their ankles. You also might like to then light a little bit of white sage or use a spray to spray into their energy field to help clear it.

10. Invite your client to come and sit with you, offer them a drink of water. Ask them how they feel and what they experienced, don't worry if they just say it was a lovely relaxing experience. If you experienced anything for them then now is the moment to say it, if all you experienced was that you experienced a feeling of peace wash over them as they had the healing then that is perfect. If you had some images come to mind then you can ask them if they mean anything to them, you might also say that the image might mean something to them in the future be that a week or month ahead.

11. Advise your client that they may well feel tired over the coming days as the angelic energy will continue to work through them, advise them to follow their body and rest if needed. Explain that the angelic healing energy will be working on clearing all four planes, the physical, the mental, the emotional and the spiritual and they may experience some symptoms on any of those levels, ie feeling emotional or a bit stressed. BUT for something to clear it needs to be released from the body, mind and emotional plane, so when we go through symptoms we need to celebrate that clearing is happening! Though it might not feel like it at the time!!

12. You might like to arrange another healing appointment with your client, I normally advise once a month but suggest that if they feel like they would need one sooner then that is also fine. Don't be afraid to ask, a good way to suggest is to say something like, "Thank you for coming today, it was lovely to work with you, we normally suggest that you have a healing once a month to keep you in balance but if you feel like you would need one sooner then we can do that too. Shall we schedule something for 4 weeks time?" If they cant commit at that time, say "ok that's perfect but what I am going to do is just to send you a quick follow up text to see how you are getting on in a couple of weeks time, is that ok?" This is best practise and should be done in all cases following a healing.

13. After your client has left you need to clear yourself and your room from their energy, bring the white light up again from the ground clearing you and your room, see, sense and feel yourself and the room becoming clear, and purified.
